
PADMAPANI SENEVIRATNE, American University of Sharjah

Codes from multipartite graphs and permutation decoding

We examine the self orthogonal codes associated with the row-span of incidence matrices and the adjacency matrices of complete multi-partite graphs and we show that, these codes contain permutation decoding sets or PD-sets for full-error correction. Further we study the computational complexity of the permutation decoding method.