

---

RICHARD NOWAKOWSKI, Dalhousie University

Cops and Robber with different edges sets

In "Cops and Robber", the cops are assumed to obey the rules and the Robber not. This suggests that they should play on different edges sets. I'll present what little is known and that only covers certain situations, specifically, (a) the different edges sets are obtained from the edges of products; (b) complementary sets of edges. There are more questions than answers.