
JOSH ZAHL, University of British Columbia

Sphere tangencies, line incidences, and Lie's line-sphere correspondence

In this talk I will discuss a connection between two problems in combinatorial geometry: bounding the maximum possible number of tangencies determined by a set of spheres in three dimensions, and bounding the maximum possible number of intersections determined by a set of lines in three dimensions. The connection between these two problems is given by Lie's line-sphere correspondence.